GREETINGS

Over a Decade of Intellectual Imagination and Ethical Action

New Community Jewish High School is a vibrant and academically rigorous school where intellectual imagination and ethical action are inseparable. We seek to shape students into collaborative leaders and respectful, knowledgeable people of character who embrace life in an ethical manner.

At New Community Jewish High School, students are taught that mathematical and scientific advances are to “promote the general welfare” of humanity; that powerful writing must serve the greater good and never devolve into demagoguery; that arts uplift the soul and explore human meaning; that Jewish text study has practical application in business and medical ethics; that from the study of history emerges wisdom for the future; and that world language study both connects us with the “other,” and transmits culture.
